

Mark D. Rossi, PT, PHD, CSCS

PHYSICAL THERAPY

Associate professor
MMC Campus -- AHC3, Rm. 428
305-348-3478 | rossim@fiu.edu

EDUCATION

- PhD in Physical Therapy, Texas Woman's University, Denton, TX
- Master of Arts in Physical Therapy, Touro College, New York, NY
- B.S. in Health Science, Touro College, New York, NY
- B.S. in Mathematics/Science, St. Joseph's College, New York, NY

AREA(S) OF SPECIALTY

Upper and lower extremity orthopedics

RESEARCH/SCHOLARSHIP

Rossi MD. An overview of total knee replacement and the role of the strength and conditioning professional. In press. Strength and Conditioning Journal. 2011; 33(3):88-99.

Rossi MD, Brown LE, Whitehurst M. Knee extensor function before and one year after simultaneous bilateral knee joint replacement: Is there asymmetry between limbs? Am J Ortho. 2011;40(1):29-33.

Rossi MD, Eberle T, Roche M, Waggoner M, Blake R, Burwell B, Baxter A. Delaying knee replacement surgery, implications on early post-operative outcomes: A pilot study. Orthopedics. 2009;32(12):885-93.

Be Worlds
Ahead